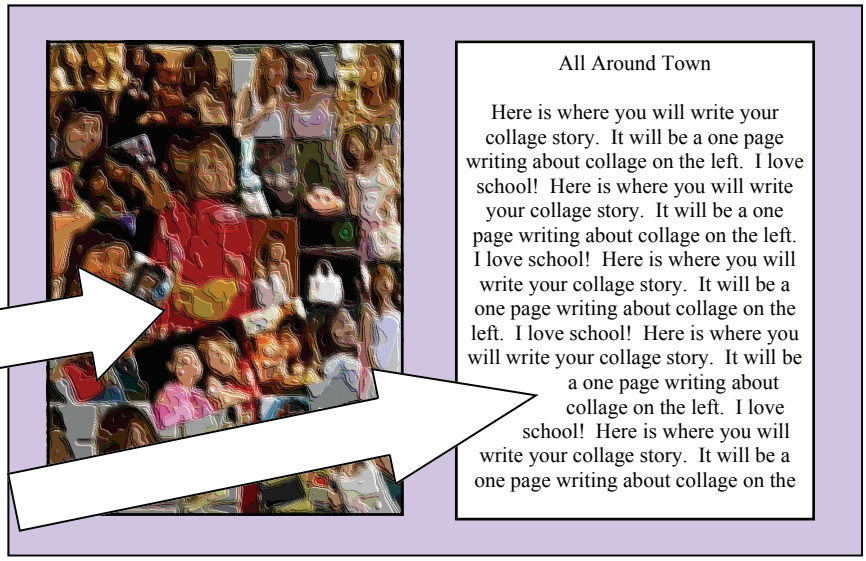
Collage Stories

For our next creative writing project, we will be creating collage poems!

One Person will create a collage out of magazine pictures!

The other person will write a story using that collage as inspiration.



All Around Town

Here is where you will write your collage story. It will be a one page writing about collage on the left. I love school! Here is where you will write your collage story. It will be a one page writing about collage on the left. I love school! Here is where you will write your collage story. It will be a one page writing about collage on the left. I love school! Here is where you will write your collage story. It will be a one page writing about collage on the left. I love school! Here is where you will write your collage story. It will be a one page writing about collage on the

Directions for the collage artist:

- Your collage needs to tell a story. (Use pictures in your magazines to create charater, setting, and plot)
- Your collage should completely cover one 8 1/2 x 11in sheet of paper.
- You should NOT include any school inappropriate images in your collage. (Although alcohol and/or sexual references may present themselves in the form of advertisements, last year some of our projects were emphatically removed from hallway walls due to their content.)
- When you are finished, write your name, the date, this class, and the hour on the back.

Directions for the Story Writer:

- You will receive a random collage from some other student in the room. Use this to create a story about the people, places and things you see on the collage. Your story should have a detailed setting, more than one pivotal character, and a resolution to some sort of conflict.
- Your story should completely cover one 8 1/2 x 11in sheet of paper. (Use a smaller or larger font, anything from 10 point to 14 point, if necessary).
- When you are finished, write your name, the date, this class, and the hour on the back.
- Your story needs to have: Setting, Characterization, Conflict, Resolution, and Denouement.